NOT DREAMING

Los Angeles.- Police were rather skeptical when Louis Tange called, announcing that a lion was looking in his kitchen window. They went to the Tange house and found that it was a lion — a 40-pound, 15-week-old cub. Donald Fuller soon arrived at an animal shelter to claim the cub, which, he said, had escaped from a cage on his front lawn.

The President said that the Government would have to step in with direct controls on wages and prices unless business and labor helped in the anti-inflation campaign by using restraint.

Garden Talk

By
Appomattox Garden Club

This is to avoid the mold that may otherwise form on the surface. Water moderately at first, increasing as growth develops.

Plants to be grown to maturity in pots should be shifted again to 6, 7, or even 8 inch size. Bulb pans are best, since they are not as likely to get tipped over. Pinching out the tips of the stalks, about the time the first bud appears will produce stockier plants.

You can have a riot of clear gorgeous colors ranging through the entire scales of reds, pinks, yellows and oranges, and pure white.

No matter what your garden scheme is, you can count on these glamorous flowers to provide additional beauty and interest. You can use them in mass plantings; in small groups as an interesting edging-down for broad-leaved evergreens which are often under overhead shade; in groups of three or four, to brighten up small shady spots; to use in front of summering house plants; for shady porch boxes; for hanging baskets, using the trailing varieties. Get some tubers and try them in your garden this summer. They will bloom all summer, and be "the talk of the town."

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS WILDLIFE WEEK IN VA.

In his statement on Wildlife Week in Virginia, March 17 - 23, Governor Stanley reminds Virginians that "The basic foundation and strength of our community, state and nation is our abundance of natural resources. The wise use and sound management of our soils, waters, forests, minerals and wildlife cannot be achieved without the guidance and support of an informed public."

"This year's Wildlife Week theme emphasizes the importance of providing adequate living places for the mammals, birds, and fish which have always been an important part of our American scene," continued the Governor, "and, in keeping with the national theme, 'Make a Place for Wildlife,' to give particular support to programs providing for the protection and restoration of wildlife living areas; to encourage the preservation and wise management of natural coverts in our forests, grasslands, streams, lakes marshes, and on arable lands; and within undeveloped and wilderness areas to work to insure that our animals and the esthetic and recreational benefits that accrue from them will be perpetuated for the America of tomorrow."

The Virginia Game Commission will again help promote the observance of Wildlife Week in the Old Dominion in connection with National Wildlife Week across the nation, executive director, I. T. Quinn announced today.

William C. Kellner, acting chief of the education division of the Commission, will act as chairman of Wildlife Week in Virginia.

Walt Disney, who has produced a succession of "True-Life Adventure" films, will serve as national chairman.

E. C. Calhoun, of Norfolk, is president of the Virginia Wildlife Federation, which is the state organization affiliated with the National Federation, with headquarters in Washington.

Sportsmen's clubs, Izaak Walton League chapters, women's clubs, garden clubs, youth groups and others will schedule special activities during Wildlife Week. Federation publications are available from the state chairman, Box 1642, Richmond 13, Virginia.
